

THE ANGUS STEER selected as grand champion of the Will county 4-H fair Aug. 1, turned out to be the best in the state. The animal was picked as grand champion of the junior livestock competition at the Illinois state fair last week-end and the owner, Ronald Strawson, 17, of the Wesley Hustlers 4-H club near Wilmington is a happy young man. The steer is an 840-pound Aberdeen Angus. There were 329 animals in the junior beef division. Ronald's entry was also chosen as reserve champion in the junior and open classes at the Kankakee fair this year. This is the third time young Strawson has shown at the state fair but it was his first win. He plans to enter the steer in the International at Chicago this fall. Ronald plans to enroll at the University of Illinois in September. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

the Rialto theatre, at Joliet. Mrs. Bertha Klepper, who has served the church as organist for the past 30 years, submitted her resignation some time ago. The congregation at its annual 1963 meeting adopted a resolution of appreciation and thanks to Mrs. Klepper for her many years of loyal and devoted service to the St. Peter's church.

Say Vegetable Toppings Jam Sewage Plant

The New Lenox village board at its last session reiterated its decision to ban induction of garbage into the sanitary sewer.

Lloyd Berlin, one of the owners of a food market at the Lincoln-Way shopping center appeared before the board to ask that the market be allowed to use a garbage disposal unit installed for the purpose of moving the leafy waste from vegetable.

According to village officials such waste merely settled in the tanks at the sewage treatment plant and does not disintegrate. They fear it will prevent proper disposal of sanitary waste.

The board adopted a building code, one recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which covers construction of commercial and industrial structures. A part of the Warren subdivision that has been annexed to the village is zoned for light industry.

Orland Park Adopts Annual Tax Levy Measure

The Orland Park village board adopted its annual tax levy ordinance Monday night. The levy this year is for a total of $86,504, a sum it was pointed out, that will exceed the amount that will accrue to the village. The total includes the amount that will be used to meet principle and interest on outstanding municipal bonds, the money necessary to support the library, civil defense, garbage collection and general corporate purposes. The levy is thus divided:

Library - $5,575
Garbage - $20,000
Municipal bonds etc. - $13,429
Special tax (C.D.) - $2,000
Total - $86,504

The levy is sent to the office of the county clerk and is used in setting up the figures for extending the taxes. The levy forms but a part of the annual appropriation ordinance, approximately 21 per cent in fact. The total appropriation for the current 1963-64 fiscal year is $407,241. If the full levy were realized it would still leave $320,731 to be met by revenue from other sources. Included in the money raised from other sources is the amount received as the village share of the state sales tax collected in the municipality. Cities and villages get a half cent of the four cents collected by the state.

The water department is self-sustaining and also provides some revenue for general purposes. The revenue bonds sold to finance the sewer installation, in part, are paid off thru water sales. An ordinance covering this bond issue sets up a table to be followed in meeting the payments and establishing a surplus and reserve fund for the protection of the bondholders. A check for $1,000 was received by the village from the Andrew Corporation, large scale manufacturer of antennas, as a contribution to the fire department to be applied on the cost of the new truck that is being purchased. In an accompanying letter the manufacturing firm spoke highly of the efforts and achievements of the Orland Park volunteer fire department stating that it wished to help with the purchase of the truck. The truck is now being put together. The chassis was purchased separately and the body and other equipment and parts necessary for a pumper are being built on at the factory. At the meeting Monday night the board took the occasion to serve notice on property owners, who neglect their yards and lots, that weeds, high grass and under brush must be cleared off immediately. There is an ordinance requiring property owners to keep weeds and grass cut and it was indicated that the village means to enforce it.

Will Name Citizen Group To Pick New High School Site

At the last regular meeting of the Lincoln-Way board of education, it was decided to make a comprehensive study of the future building needs including the growth of the school district as well as the possible selection of a site for a second high school building.

Board members were of the opinion that a special citizens committee should be selected to spend considerable time this fall in making this most exhaustive study of the overall problem. A committee of seven members will eventually be selected with each one of the six communities represented and the seventh member coming from the board.

Subjects for study will be: population growth of the area along with the actual direction of this growth; feasibility of a second building site; grades to be accommodated; general location; size of the site; how it should be financed and when it should be obtained.

It was pointed out by board members that it would be economically advantageous to get additional land in the near future before the area is further developed, bringing inflated values as well as making it difficult to find an adequate site.

It was also mentioned that should future plans and requirements change, any new real estate obtained at this time would be readily marketable.

The present Lincoln-Way building will provide for 1,300 students when the new addition is completed in the spring of 1964.

According to previous adopted plans, one more small addition will be financially practical, bringing the eventual student capacity up to 1500-1600 students. This limitation results from the initial plans for the present building, completed in 1952, and designed for only 600 students. This figure seemed more than adequate at that time since only 250 high school students from this area were actually enrolled in school. Now present enrollment projections indicate that the ultimate and maximum capacity of the present building will be reached no later than the fall of 1969.

The L-W district comprises 93 square miles including all of Frankfort township, 31 sections of New Lenox township, and 26 sections of Manhattan township.

Asst. Supt. Donald D'Amico has recently completed a comprehensive study of the entire district along with the factors influencing the growth in this area. Much of his research will be used by the committee in assisting them with this study. The committee probably will be selected early in September in order to provide ample time for its study and recommendations.

Little Oscar and his wienermobile will be present to entertain the children.

The eventful day will close with a free dance from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Came To Teach For Two Hours; Stayed 18 Years

Mrs. William (Isabelle) Davidson has resigned from the Ann Rutledge school faculty and is retiring after 27 years of teaching, 18 of them at Ann Rutledge.

"I came for two hours and stayed for 18 years," Mrs. Davidson has often remarked. In 1945 she came to help Mrs. George Walker two hours in the afternoon with history and geography in the one room school that was already crowded with over 50 pupils.

Mrs. Davidson has seen the school grow from the one room school to a modern, comfortable building. In 1946, the first addition to the school was built. They were struggling with low taxes at the time, but with the aid of the PTA three thousand dollars was raised to provide the necessities for the school.

Mrs. Walker taught the first four grades and Mrs. Davidson the upper grades. They worked together in harmony toward an education for better character, citizenship and living.

Mrs. Walker retired in 1949 and Mrs. Davidson became the principal until two more rooms were added and Lloyd Alton joined the staff. At present, the Ann Rutledge school is an attractive rural school with five teachers.

Mrs. Davidson recalls with great pleasure and satisfaction; many wonderful and ambitious pupils; many gifts and thoughtful deeds; understanding and helpful parents; eighth grade banquets; programs of outstanding merit; music and spelling contests won and lost; extensive field trips; parties and play-days.

Mrs. Davidson has been president of the Will County rural teachers two years and the Lincoln-Way rural teachers two years. She faithfully attended the Ann Rutledge PTA with only one absence, helping in many ways with entertainment and any other way that she could.

MRS. DAVIDSON

She has taken part in many projects in the community, and those who know her hope she will continue to do so.

At the present time Mrs. Davidson expects to make several extensive trips.

REV. E.J. BAUMGARTNER

Good Shepherd Church To Welcome Pastor Sunday

On Sunday, Aug. 18, the Rev. Erwin J. Baumgartner will be installed as the first resident pastor of Good Shepherd Lutheran church. The service will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the church. The Rev. Walter Baumgartner, father of the Rev. Erwin, and pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Chicago, will preach the sermon and also conduct the rite of installation.

The Rev. Adolph E. Ullrich, pastor of Immanuel church, Matteson, who served the congregation for the past seven years, will be the liturgist. The Youth Group of Good Shepherd will sing the anthem. After the service, a welcome will be extended to the Baumgartner family in the church hall. The Good Shepherd Circle will serve refreshments.

The new pastor is a graduate of Concordia college, Milwaukee and Concordia Seminary, St. Louis in 1958. He did supply work in Florida and a second year at Toledo, O.

His first pastorate was in Wisconsin where he served three parishes, Phillips, Kennan and Ogema. After two years he accepted the call to Zion church in Chappell, Neb. He served there until he accepted the call to Good Shepherd at Frankfort. Mrs. Baumgartner is the former Edith Weinrich, and is a registered nurse, a graduate from the St. Louis Lutheran school of nursing.

Good Shepherd congregation was organized in the year 1956 at which time it also purchased the former Methodist church. At this time the Rev. Mr. Ullrich, pastor of Immanuel church at Cicero and Sauk Trail, was called to serve the Frankfort parish in addition to his parish. The parish has grown steadily and is now ready to support its own resident pastor. In the morning service at 8:30 a.m. on Aug. 18, the Rev. Mr. Ullrich will conduct his farewell service.

New Lenox School District 122 will open school Sept. 3, with a 28% increase in the certified staff members making 47 on the teaching staff.

Break Ground For Girls New High School

Ground was broken Sunday for the new Sacred Heart high school for girls to be erected at the site east of U. S. 45, Frankfort township.

Mrs. Romeo Blanchette, vicar general and chancellor of the Joliet diocese, turned the first shovel of earth, followed by Mother M. Adeline, principal of the school. Also taking part in the program was Msgr. Joseph A. Wagner, of Roselle, superintendent of schools for the diocese.

Sacred Heart high school opened its doors to day students seven years ago and the outside enrollment that first year totaled four girls from Mokena. Previously the schooling had been confined to aspirants to the order of the Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart.

A LOT OF CABBAGE one more day and he would be right. This head of the companion piece for corned beef is quite a load for the young Gravitts, Tony (left) and Harold and they were glad when the photographer was finished. This head of cabbage measured a yard in circumference, according to Mrs. Travis Gravitt and weighed around 16 pounds. (Graphic Newspapers Photo)

Cardinal To Be Given Legion Service Medal

MIAMI BEACH, FLA. -- The American Legion's Distinguished Service Medal for 1963 will be presented to Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York, at the 45th National Convention in Miami Beach, Sept. 6-12, National Commander James E. Powers has announced.

Cardinal Spellman was the unanimous choice of the National Executive Committee as the recipient of the Legion's highest award to an individual who has performed outstanding service in behalf of the causes to which the Legion is dedicated. . . the service of God and country. At an early age, Cardinal Spellman, the second clergyman to receive the award since it was instituted in 1921, dedicated his life to God's service and for more than 50 years has been the recipient of honors and recognitions from many of the world's most distinguished organizations and institutions. hostilities with a known and defined enemy or guarding the ramparts of the free world against the cold war thrusts of the forces of a godless ideology. . ."

Cardinal Spellman will appear before the 1963 National Convention on Sept. 10, to receive the award from National Commander Powers.

Unveil 6 New Models At Park Hill

Park Hill Estates, a proposed development of 320 new homes, will go on view this weekend with the unveiling of six model homes.

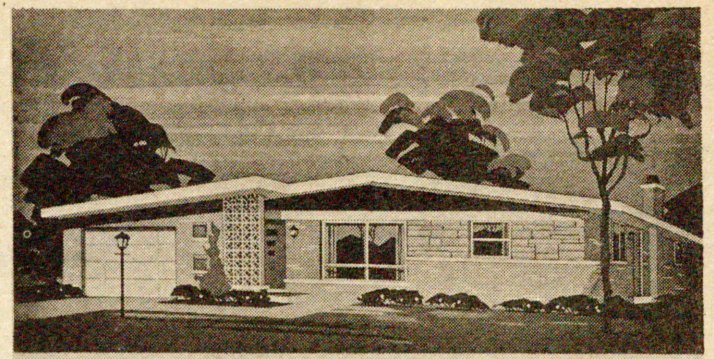

Located on Route 6 in the eastern outskirts of Joliet, Park Hill is situated in a natural wooded setting surrounded by outdoor recreational facilities of all kinds. Woodruff golf course is adjacent to Park Hill on the east. Also adjacent are Pilcher Park and Highland Park natural picnic areas which boast such attractions as the flowering well, botanic gardens, hiking trails, baseball diamonds, tennis courts and the Totem Pole Playhouse.

The six models on display are contemporary ranch and split-level designs ranging in price from $18,350 to $22,500. All homes feature solid brick construction, with 10-inch thick foundation, select oak floors, wood windows doors and trim, customized oak or birch kitchen cabinets, ceramic wall tile and double drain sinks in kitchen, tiled baths with colored fixtures, forced-air automatic gas heat, one-hundred amp wiring, and outside gas yard lights.

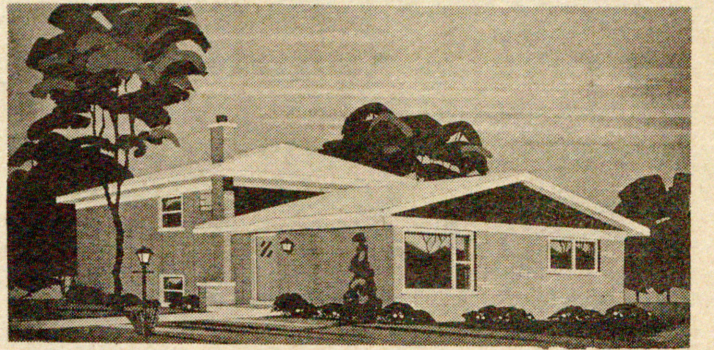

The two ranch designs, the Kimberly and the Margaret, each include three bedrooms, attached garage, and extra large living room and kitchen. The Margaret also has a basement and bath and a half.

Emphasis on traffic patterns in the four split-level models. Easy accessibility to all levels of living is the keynote. Each comes equipped with three bedrooms, bath and a half and basement areas, some with family rooms.

The Princess model has a unique two-bedroom arrangement upstairs, and an additional bedroom on the main living level just off the kitchen.

THE KIMBERLY, one of six all-brick model homes to be unveiled this weekend at Park Hill Estates, is a three-bedroom ranch with attached garage, large living room and kitchen.

THE JACQUELINE, featuring formal dining room, finished family room and 1 1/2 baths, is one of four split-levels being offered at Park Hill Estates.

Multipane sliding glass patio doors leading from the kitchen is a highlight of the Victoria.

The Elizabeth bi-level is distinguished by a wrought iron balcony which overlooks a cathedral-ceiling living room.

Rounding out this fine selection of split-levels is the Jacqueline. Special feature of this large home is a "kitchen-control" center which allows ease of serving guests in the living room, formal dining room or in the downstairs family room.

Park Hill Estates is a fully developed and improved 92 1/2 acre community. Improvements include sidewalks, paved streets, fire hydrants, city water, city storm and sanitary sewers. Full time police and fire protection is also provided for. Homesites range from 60 to 75 foot frontage.

According to Frank Bogdan Sr., builder of Park Hill, 12 1/2 acres have been proposed for a shopping center.

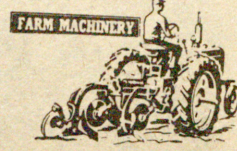

Churches, grade and high schools, rail transportation to Chicago, shopping facilities and a hospital are all within a few minutes of Park Hill.

Park Hill Estates may be reached by taking either U.S. 6 or U.S. 30 west from Chicago or east from Joliet. Office is at 2222 Tamarack Drive.

Board OK's Trailer Camp Expansion

(CNS) The county board Friday concurred in a recommendation by its zoning board of appeals granting an expansion of the Arrow Park trailer camp operated by Otto Hartl, 11725 Ridgeland ave., Worth, abutting the Tri-State tollway at 119th st.

Altho the Worth zoning board objected because of the "crowded condition of the school district and possible devaluation of nearby homes," the county ZBA noted there were only two children living in the camp, and that the trailer park existed in the location before the homes were built.

"The park is of a semi-permanent nature and since it is not directly connected with the tollway, not likely to attract others," the zoning board of appeals found.

Palos Heights and Alsip were also notified but did not object, the report noted.

Objections from the Village of Worth resulted in withdrawal of another application for expansion of a trailer camp, located on 61 acres on the southwest corner of 115th st. and Austin ave. The applicant was the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee.

Carl Sandburg Principal Is Back From Conference

George W. Davidson, principal, Carl Sandburg high school was one of 40 educators from 25 states and Chile who attended a two-week conference at Teachers college, Columbia university, to consider recent developments in the secondary-school curriculum.

The role of the disciplines in the secondary-school curriculum was a major conference theme. The importance of teaching subjects as disciplines rather than teaching about disciplines, and the meanings of structure, conceptual learning, and of learning by discovery were discussed in terms of such subjects as mathematics, science, and the social sciences.

A second theme of the conference was the implication of recent developments in instructional technology for instruction in the secondary-school. The development of 8-mm. sound projection, programmed instruction, and recent developments in educational television, language laboratories, and business machines were reported.

Fernway Group Opposes Any Westhaven Airport

Protests against the proposed building of a commercial airport in the vicinity of Westhaven, have been voiced by the Fernway Improvement Association and a spokesman for the group indicated that objections would be carried to the Federal Aviation Agency.

A petition asking for authority to proceed with plans for the airport have been filed by the village of Westhaven, according to Village Attorney Robert Biederman. A hearing on the petition was scheduled before the FAA at Kansas City, Mo., on Aug. 2, Biederman said Monday that he had not heard what action, if any, the federal agency had taken.

Biederman stated, however, that this hearing was more or less a preliminary and that he anticipated many hurdles ahead for those who would build an airport off of U.S. 45 on some 1,200 acres adjoining Westhaven.

He added that while there was a need for an airport south of Chicago capable of handling the smaller jets it would have to be clearly shown before any permit would be forthcoming. The attorney said it was the hopes of the airport boosters that such a move would attract industry to the area.

The Fernway people -- it is estimated there are some 300 families there -- say that one of the runways of the proposed airport would be within two blocks of their school and this was too close they said. They also feared their property would suffer damage. The Fernway people point out that the population of Westhaven is much smaller, claiming the homes there number only a little over the 100 mark.

Notice that the petition was on file with the FAA was given by that body to the Mokena village board. A committee from that board appointed by Mayor Charles Swanberg to inquire into the matter reported, Trustee Clarence Zugenbuehler said he had "contacted three of four people who have some knowledge of airports and flying and each of them claimed that as far as they knew there would be no aeronautical reason why the village should oppose such an airport in Westhaven."

Whether the WLS radio tower off U.S. 45 would interfere with the flight pattern is regarded as a possible objection to the location of the proposed airfield. Last week Will county issued a building permit to the broadcasting company to build a new tower at the same location. There was one report that the tower would be made taller than it is now.

Expands Mental Clinic

In order to meet the increasing requests for mental health services, four new members have been recently added to the mental health clinic staff of the Will county health department.

New members are Dr. Donald Beacock, psychiatrist, Mrs. Betty Cray and Jerome Wexler, psychiatric social workers and Miss Emily Weberg, psychologist.

The clinic now has on its staff, three part-time psychiatrists, two full-time and two part-time psychiatric social workers and two part-time psychologists.

The staff additions were the result of mental health clinic experiences which revealed an urgent need to expand community facilities. Thru an expanded treatment program the clinic hopes to more adequately meet the needs of county residents who are experiencing emotional and mental difficulties and are unable to obtain or afford similar kinds of help on a private basis.

Dr. William J. Cassel, Jr., health officer of the county health department stated: "In June we had 46 county residents who had been waiting for services from two weeks to three months. With the new staff members we hope to prevent such a backlog of people who need help."

John W. Butts, administrator of the mental health clinic, further emphasized that by broadening its services the clinic can provide a means of preventing severe forms of mental illness thru early diagnosis and intensive treatment. One treatment technique that is receiving serious consideration by the clinic staff is group and family therapy. This technique has demonstrated its effectiveness in community mental health clinics thru out the country.

"Because of our new staff we are now able to plan for our first group," said Butts. "This will not only provide effective treatment but also involve a greater number of people receiving help."

The health department's mental health clinic is operated as a public resource with service available to any resident of Will county who is experiencing emotional or mental difficulties. This clinic services are available on a non-fee basis and applications can be obtained by coming to the clinic in Joliet, 21 E. Van Buren St., or telephone 815-726-6295.

Illinois Bell Gives Course In Management

Robert E. Olson, of 14500 Ridge, Orland Park, was among 44 telephone employees who recently spent two weeks at Knox college, Galesburg, attending Illinois Bell management development courses.

The training sessions, ranked among the most extensive of their kind, included some 12 and 14-hour days, as students attended lectures and group discussions, and pored over supplemental reading.

The sessions at Knox this summer were the 107th and 108th Illinois Bell development conferences.

In winter, the sessions are held in Chicago's Congress Hotel.

Parked Cars Run Over 2 Youngsters

A 2-year-old girl, Elizabeth Metcalfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Metcalfe, 10240 Hyacinth, Orland Park Hills, had a narrow brush with death Monday when she was struck by a driverless car near her home. A Frankfort township youngster, 18-month old Arline Depolster, was injured last week in a similar accident.

The Metcalfe child was making her way along the sidewalk in a playcar when an automobile that had been parked in the driveway of Francis Simon, 10232 Hyacinth came rolling down a slight incline and as it crossed the walk it hooked onto the playcar and dragged it out into the street.

The child was still in the playcar when the automobile came to a stop in the street, and the playcar was still entangled with the auto. Elizabeth was taken to the office of Dr. Julius Romanas where she was treated for a deep laceration on the right arm. X-ray examination failed to reveal any broken bones, according to the police report made by Commissioner Frank Guetter.

Commissioner Guetter said Mrs. Barbara Simon, 29, told him she had parked the car in the driveway at her home when she returned from a shopping trip about half an hour prior to the time of the accident. She told Guetter, the latter said, that she had left the shift lever in the park position and also had applied the emergency brake.

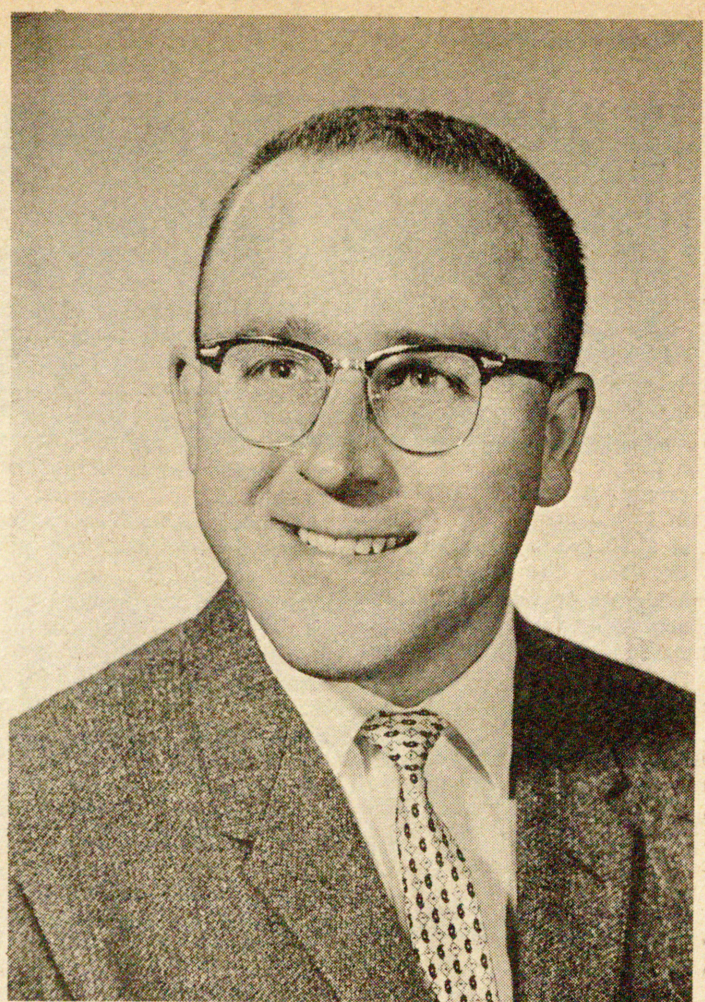

In the Frankfort case a car rolled off of some blocks and rolled backward, passing over the Depolster child. There were tire marks on her face, according to the report, but she apparently escaped serious injury and was released from Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, last Friday.

Extra Fee To Give Saloons Extra Hours

(CNS) The county board has approved the $1,000 extra "late, late" liquor license for unincorporated area taverns proposed by Comr. Charles Chaplin six weeks ago to allow them to compete with village taverns by staying open to 4 a.m. seven days a week.

At present 76 taverns out of 276 pay $350 above the regular license fee of $500 to observe "late" hours to 2 a.m. weekdays and 3 a.m. Sundays. The rest close an hour earlier.

"The competition is especially bad around O'Hare Field," said Chaplin. "Besides, the county can always use the money."

GEORGE ABRAHAM

L-W Science Dept. Head Completes Special Study

George Abraham, chairman of the Lincoln-Way high school science department, recently completed a four weeks institute program at Indiana University which was conducted for teachers of high school and college biology. This institute consisted of lectures, laboratory experience, individual laboratory work and field trips.

As a part of the laboratory experience, some consideration was given to the laboratory block on microbes of the biological science curriculum study.

Mr. Abraham has been on the Lincoln-Way staff since 1956 and assumed the chairmanship of the department in 1960. He is a graduate of Wisconsin State college and received his master's degree at the University of Illinois. In addition, he has completed over a year's study in advance work and has attended various summer science institute programs. In 1961 he was elected chairman of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science and has been on the board of directors of the Illinois Senior Academy of Science for several years.

Reach Agreement On Zoning Property For Bowling Lanes

When Walter Yunker, of Mokena, erects a bowling alley on Wolf road it will be accessible to traffic only from that highway. There will be no opening from the bowling lanes property for cars to have access to Bonness and Anna streets.

He agreed to this suggestion advanced by the Mokena zoning commission. The commission was agreeable to changing the classification of the property from residential to commercial but wanted limitation on traffic access to Anna and Bonness streets.

Village Attorney Ronald Galowich stated that in his opinion restrictions could not be imposed when property is reclassified, as can be done in the case of variations. He suggested that he be instructed to draft an ordinance for a zoning restriction saying that prior to passage the owners of the land had recorded a valid restriction under which access to Bonness and the existing and proposed Anna streets would not be allowed.

This was done, Mr. Yunker is to have his attorney draw up such a restriction and it will be presented to the board at the coming meeting at which time the zoning board recommendation for reclassification will be approved.

Mr. Yunker did not submit any plans for the type of building or materials and in reply to a question by a board member as to whether the board could restrict the type of building that was to be erected, the attorney said that it could not. He added that it would be difficult to control the type of building to be erected but that it would have to be "a safe building."

Mayor Charles Swanberg read a letter from the Illinois department of registration and education that claimed it is unlawful for anyone not licensed by the state, like architects, to offer or furnish drawings for any building or structure in any village. The department asks all villages to aid the state in coping with this situation. It was not brought out whether the same thing applies in cities or unincorporated areas. No action was taken by the Mokena board other than to have the matter referred to a committee.

The village attorney has been instructed to draw up an ordinance requiring property owners who do not have a buffalo box and shutoff valve in front of their premises to install one. If the property owner fails to comply with the terms of the ordinance the measure is to provide that the village have the work done and the cost added to the water bill. Failure to pay, it was said, would result in the village posting a lien against the property.

George Helgersen who has two apartment buildings on Wolf road, reported to the board that his tenants were complaining of rust in the water. The water lines in the area are to be flushed. Helgersen also asked that something be done to prevent the flooding of the lawn at the apartment site. Several flower beds were ruined, he said. Trustee Hans Mueller told the board that Ralph Yunker, village engineer, told him the state highway department would not do anything about Helgersen's problem. It had been planned to put a culvert under Wolf road to the west but that state engineers reported back after looking over their maps that the natural flow of the water was to the east. If anything is done, it was said, it will have to be the village that does it and other properties will be involved.

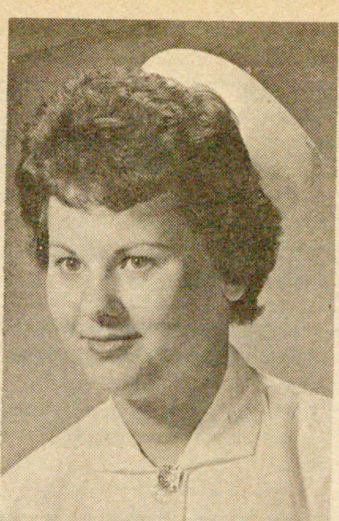

The village engineer reported that to take care of the drainage problem properly in the Revere road area would cost between $25,000 and $30,000. The matter will be discussed at another meeting.

Educational TV will share the choral room, it was announced by Supt. Leroy Olson, and there will be two sections of kindergarten. Youngsters who will attend the morning session for kindergarten now will attend the afternoon sessions at mid-year, and those who will be attending the afternoon now will go in the morning.

Warning Chevrolet Sales has been awarded the school bus contract. With the aid of the state highway department, Mr. Olson reported to the Frankfort school board, the bus route has been planned. Pupils living more than 1 1/2 miles from school will be transported without charge. Pupils living outside Frankfort proper but within a mile and a half radius of the school may use the bus but will have to pay a small fee. Pickup points will be made available later.

The board settled its suit against the McDaniel Co., which installed an automatic sprinkler system in the school as a protection against fire for $1,800. The board sued because the sprinkler system froze and pipes burst, causing some water damage. Attorney George Sangmeister who represented the board, reported the defendant's offer and recommended its acceptance.

The board also decided to repair the gymnasium roof.

At its next meeting, Sept. 9, the board will approve the budget for the current fiscal year.

Relative to the first day of school, Aug. 30, teachers will report in the morning for a workshop but pupils will not report until 1 p.m.

The schedule of fees for pupils call for $8 per individual for books; $5.25 for milk; $1.25 for insurance (optional); bus transportation, $4 for one student per family; $5 for two students per family; $6 for three or more students per family and $2 for kindergarten age child if no other students from the same family are using the bus. If other students of the same family are using the bus the fees as outlined above will prevail. Bus fees are payable the first of each month.

The book rental fee included the milk fee for kindergarten pupils only. Parents may pay the fees Aug. 26-27-28 or 29. The school office will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

Teachers hired by the board are:

Mrs. James Bryant, kindergarten.

Mrs. Bryant completed her under-graduate work at the University of Illinois receiving a bachelor's degree in liberal arts and sciences in 1962. This will be her first year of teaching.

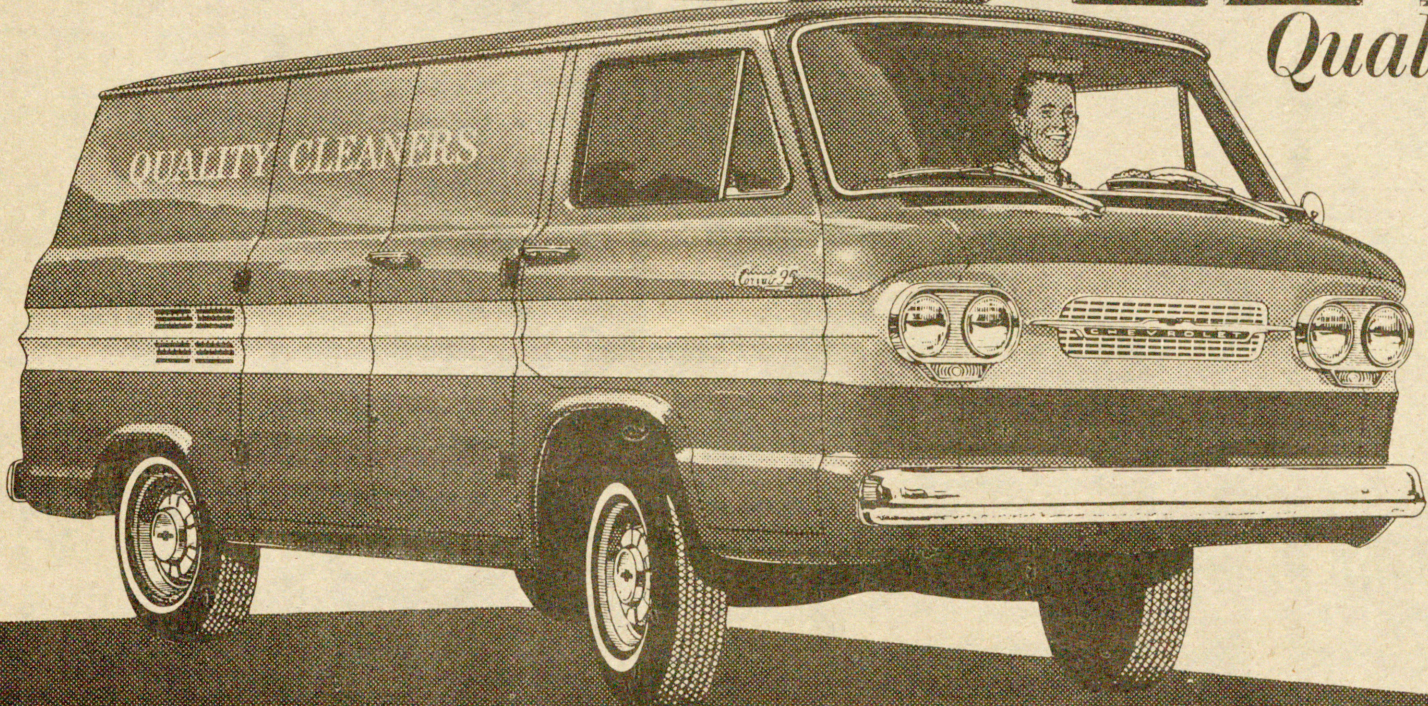

Mrs. Barbara Nusbaum, first grade. Mrs. Nusbaum received a bachelor's degree in elementary education from the University of Illinois in 1950. Mrs. Nusbaum, her husband Welton, and their two children have recently moved to Frankfort. This will be Mrs. Nusbaum's fourth year of teaching.

Directors Hopeful For Future Of Tinley S & L

Directors of the Tinley Park Savings and Loan Association have applied to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago for a $400,000 loan to pay savers who want to withdraw their money. It has been announced by Harry J. Dean, president.

This action was taken after the Illinois department of financial institutions declared a 30-day moratorium on withdrawal of savings.

State officials took control of the Tinley Park institution late Wednesday, Aug. 7, stating that approximately 46% of the association's loans are delinquent. The association is said to have assets valued at about $24 million.

All accounts are fully insured up to a maximum of $10,000, Dean said.

The directors were in the process of drafting a plan for reorganization at the time the state stepped in. After examiners have completed their work it will be determined whether the institution will be reorganized, merged with another savings and loan or liquidated, according to one of the state officials.

Dean was optimistic concerning the loan for which the directors have applied. Dean was elected president of the savings association only recently.

The local directors are Walter Fierke, Edward Suhs, William Mencke, John Farenholz, Clayton Enoch. They have been working on a reorganization plan and are hopeful for the future for Tinley Park Savings.

The institution will be open from 9 to 3 o'clock, Monday thru Friday, to accommodate those making payments on loans.

Business & Finance

By Maurice P. Angland

The stock market chartists were pleased to see closing prices of last week, showing further advance for second consecutive week. The market has been showing a tone that has some commentators expressing opinion that the market may now start to reflect the increases in earnings reported by our leading firms.

For some time, the favorable earnings reports seemed to have little effect on market action.

There seems to be more basis for believing that congress will complete a tax bill this year rather than delay such a bill until next year. It is believed that if this bill is enacted this year, it will give the business picture a substantial upward thrust.

Fortune magazine's Business Roundup has continued to predict considerable increase in business activity. The August issue notes that the commerce department has revised the consumer savings figure as having shown an increase to 6.9 per cent in the last quarter. The article notes that spending was somewhat lower and incomes higher.

The column states that increase in corporate cash flow (aided by depreciation changes) and consumer savings, indicate a long upward movement in the economy.

Inventory accumulation is getting considerable notice in financial articles of late.

Steel reported a lag in inventory accumulation this spring at a time when sales were rising. This created a considerably lower ratio of inventory to sales. The column states that steel inventories were about the same as mid-1962, but that consumption had grown by 8 per cent.

It is pointed out that building materials manufacturers have shown little inventory accumulation but distributors of these items have been depleting their stocks and construction volume has been advancing. The opinion is that there is likely to be a surge in inventory accumulation.

Chemical producers are reported to have kept inventories level against a sales increase of 5 per cent in the second quarter over first quarter figures.

This column and other leading observers express belief that the low ratio of inventory positions to sales must be equalized by accumulation of inventory as present ratio will prove untenable.

Labor costs in this country are reported to be under better control in the U.S.A. than in Western Europe.

The balance of payments situation as to our currency's world position, has been receiving large interest and many news columns from students of the science of monetary practices, but also from some commentators who do not appear to know the subject on which they are reporting.

The U.S.A. foreign trade position has been improving with gradual export rise during past four years with May showing good. Merchandise imports have not gained proportionately.

A number of analysts including Fortune, express the opinion that our deficit in world trade and in the capital account appears to be narrowing. With a downturn in defense outlays overseas and some control over capital export, Fortune expresses opinion that President Kennedy is likely to be right in the prediction of $2 billion less deficit in next eighteen months.

if they named land after him when he was dead, but that he was still alive.

Simon called Sauers, who has been superintendent since 1929, "The most remarkable man I know," and gave him credit for being responsible for Chicago having "the finest forest preserve of any city in the United States."

Every commissioner of the board rose to make a speech of congratulation, following the resolution.

Sauers in accepting the honor said "When the county building and we are all dust the forest preserve will remain the same" and said that he accepted with "appreciation and affection."

Arbury Hills

Discuss Possibility Of Forming Explorer Troop

MRS. EDWARD HOVI 479-5740

Nine of the boys of the Summit Hill Boy Scout Troop Number 10, participated in the summer camp out at Morris. In addition to the boys there was also the scoutmaster, Dan Markowski, and his family.

The nine boys out were: John Estes, Gene Riha, Butch Biddle, Mike Watkins, and his brother Steve Watkins, Doug Fife, Paul Dickerson, Alan Rognlie, and Lee Williams.

Two of the boys completed their one mile swim, Butch Biddle and Paul Dickerson.

There were also two awards given out, one to a boy and one to a man. Lee Williams, the boy scout, and Glen Cullum, the adult, were awarded the Order of the Arrow, an Indian organization.

The Summit Hill Boy Scout Troop received two first place awards and two second place awards for camp inspections. The Troop was also adjudged fifth in overall campmanship.

Just to keep life interesting, Scoutmaster Markowski, broke a finger and a watch crystal. The other mishap was a snake bite received by Butch Biddle. Fortunately the snake was a non-poisonous variety, so no serious harm was done.

A meeting of persons willing to assist the Scouts in painting the scouthouse was held at the Markowski home Aug. 13.

A work party is to be set up so that work could be started soon. Fred Cortright from Tinley Gardens has obtained the donation of the necessary paint for the job.

The men are also in need of additional manpower, and tall ladders or extension ladders. If anyone has such ladders to loan he is asked to contact Dan Markowski at 479-5041.

Also discussed the feasibility of forming an Explorer troop for Arbury Hills. An Explorer troop would include boys 14 up.
